

LOGIX WEB SITE DESIGN SERVICES

Everything you need to grow your business on the Internet.

LOGIX Web Site Design offers a complete turnkey solution to Web site hosting, design, and maintenance for small, medium, and large businesses. The service combines LOGIX's renowned Web-hosting services with industry-proven Web designers and developers who provide the hands-on expertise to create your site.

LOGIX Web Site Design

LOGIX does it all! From planning to implementation giving your website a very professional look. We specialize in providing quality website designing in terms of software as well as giving professional and special effects to your website so that it stands as something special!

We understand the need for a website to contain material that makes it popular with your customers. We use the latest image editing software to create web graphics and multimedia that enhances the appearance of your website.

LOGIX Web Site Design is a site content-creation service for your electronic interactive media hosted by LOGIX. The online content can include advertisements, product information, announcements, news, software, graphics, or electronic presentations.

LOGIX Web Site Design eCommerce Capabilities

LOGIX can custom build your eCommerce web site using advanced ASP (Active Server Pages) or CGI scripting. Or we can design your solution using Intershop® technology to create a virtual storefront that allows your customers to shop 24 hours a day. With our storefront, you can automatically track inventory, sales, sales tax, and shipping charges. Our Web designers will work closely with you to determine the most effective electronic commerce site for you.

LOGIX offers a variety of electronic commerce applications designed to match your business needs:

- CyberCash® or WorldPay® are transaction-processing systems for secure Internet payment
- Intershop storefronts and product catalogue applications allow you to build and manage a storefront environment and link to back-office systems
- Tucows® Certificates provide secure communications and transactions over the Internet

If your company requires integration with your industry's wholesalers and distributors, the LOGIX Web Site Design group also has the experience to deliver your solution.

Consider the benefits of LOGIX Web Site Design for your business:

- Reduce capital expenses by outsourcing your Web hosting and design.
- Use electronic commerce and online advertising to promote products and services and make money.
- Boost productivity, streamline operations, and deliver better customer service using powerful Web-based applications.
- Simplify your business by outsourcing site maintenance to LOGIX developers.

Want to integrate a database into your Web site?

Our developers can easily create a fully functional, "intelligent" Web site through the combination of SQL server and Microsoft® Active Server Pages using Visual Basic® Scripting Language.

LOGIX and ASP development will enable the creation of pages and forms that read and write to and from the SQL database on LOGIX's Dedicated Windows 2000® Hosting Service.

LOGIX Website Maintenance

WebCare* is a maintenance program that covers any changes, updates, additions, and deletions performed by our development team for your Web site. Our team has the expertise to accurately maintain your site efficiently and on a timely basis. Our maintenance program is sold in affordable units.

Personalized, Comprehensive Service

For the most efficient and personalized service, you will be assigned a developer who will work with you to make certain you get a uniquely competitive and enhanced-for-business Web site.

Only available in conjunction with the LOGIX Web Site Design service.*
